

Murray N. Ross, PhD
Vice President, Kaiser Permanente

Murray Ross is Vice President, Kaiser Foundation Health Plan, Inc., and leads the Kaiser Permanente Institute for Health Policy in Oakland, California. The Institute seeks to shape the public policy environment by sharing Kaiser Permanente's experience in meeting the health and care needs of over 11 million people in 8 states and the District of Columbia. It does so through publications, digital media, convenings, and by supporting and promoting the work of like-minded partner organizations.

An economist by training, Dr. Ross speaks frequently to domestic and international audiences on a wide range of health care and policy topics. He serves on a number of academic and non-profit boards. Before joining Kaiser Permanente in 2002, he was an advisor to the U.S. Congress, first with the Congressional Budget Office and later as executive director of the Medicare Payment Advisory Commission. He enjoys distance running, writing, photography, and traveling (often together).
